During the past year Dr. W. D. Williamson, of Portland, presented the Library with a full set of the Columbian Encyclopedia, with Reviews, Atlas and case, the value of which was $50.00 or more. The Library possessed no Encyclopedia, and the gift was very acceptable. Also, Miss Mae Bickford presented the Library with a copy of "Lady Rose's Daughter."

Including the Encyclopedia, about one hundred and seventy-five books have been added to the Library the present year.

Respectfully Submitted,

A. D. ELLINGWOOD, Library DONNIE WHEELER, Trustees.

CHAIRMAN'S REPORT.

West Milan, N. H., February 15, 1904.

To the Inhabitants of the School District of the Town of Milan;

As has been the custom in the past, I beg leave to submit to you a brief review of the progress of our schools during the past year, together with such recommendations as it seems my duty to make.

While we have had various disagreeable circumstances arise to deter the best progress of our schools, on the whole I feel safe in saying that they have been reasonably prosperous. The point of attendance has been indeed gratifying. I think that, taking into consideration the extremely cold winter, and the distance that some of our scholars have to go, it has been all that could reasonably be expected.

The policy of your school board has been to continue the good work already begun in the previous years, and to cut out all the bad features as far as possible to do so. The teachers have all been thoroughly prepared in the subject matter which they were required to teach, and for the most part were earnest and zealous in the performance of their duties, striving hard to inculcate and impart each subject in the most thorough, improved and up-to-date manner.

We introduced, at the beginning of the fall term, the "Progressive Readers" to take the place of the Cyr's series; this we consider one of most important changes, taken in connection with the supplementary reading (Carpenter's Geographical Readers), introduced at the beginning of the spring term. In view of the fact that this most valuable study, reading, is so often slighted, we have endeavored to bring it to the front as a paramount study.

We have been very liberal along the line of furnishing supplies for the schools, but I regret to say that there has been considerable wasted among the scholars, such as peucils, paper, etc. While this is a small matter, it is a stepping stone to exhorbitant waste, and each child that is allowed to do this without restraint will feel the effects all through their lives.

In connection with the above, we have noted during the past year some minor injuries to the town's property, also trespassing on individuals' property by scholars. While we admit that 'boys are boys,' it certainly should not be carried to the extent of malicious mischief, for which each child is personally responsible, but kept within reasonable bounds.

I would recommend that the town give the question of painting school-houses their consideration the coming spring.

One of the most serious questions we have had to contend with is the conveying of scholars to and from the school-houses. The law plainly provides that it is the duty of each town to provide suitable school-houses, books, teachers, etc., and it also provides that scholars between certain ages shall attend such schools. It also provides that school boards may under certain circumstances, where in their judgment it is expedient to do so, furnish conveyance. We believe that it is the duty of each scholar to make some personal effort to get himself or herself to and from school, and when living within a reasonable distance from school, to get to and from school without expense to the town.

Experience has taught us that poor, lazy, and unqualified teachers are an expensive luxury, and the best are none too good as far as we are able to hire. I trust that teachers that shall be employed in the future will have such qualifications as will bring us rich rewards.

I wish to thank the other members of the school board for their earnest and harmonious work during the past year, also the scholars and parents who have co-operated with us for the best interest of the schools. I feel that when such co-operation is perfected we shall get results from our schools of which we shall be justly proud.

Respectfully Submitted,

GEORGE B, REED, Chairman of School Board.
